What is the ex4 to mq4 decompiler? The Exe4Decompiler is a versatile program that can decompile EXE files into a readable form, and then recompile or convert them. It can create a disassembly listing, a pseudo code listing, an assembly listing, and an MQO file for use in CodeWarrior. It's also possible to save all these listings as separate EXE files or as HTML documents. In addition, it can extract resources from EXE files and save them as separate EXEs with the default resource names from Visual Studio. The Exe4Decompiler gives you all the information about any .exe files that you want to decompile, and then lets you choose how to use it. For example, if you want to decompile every .exe file on the class library system, just select "All Classes" from the "Decompile" menu. If you want to recompile or convert all these files, choose "All Programs", "Visual C++" and "Visual C++ 2005 Express Edition" at the top of the dialog box. The Exe4Decompiler can also take an EXE or even a batch file, and create a .exe program. What are the advantages of Exe4Decompiler? The following list summarizes some of the advantages of using an exe4decompiler: How to use it? OK, now you've got it. Let's start to use the program. The exe4decompiler is part of the IDE for Visual C++ 2005 Edition and they work together: you can decompile with visual c++ 2005 and recompile with visual c++ 2005. This program works like the exe4decompiler, also it's compatible with visual c++ 2008... nowadays the latest version is exe4decompiler 1.0. All of them are free and can be downloaded at MSDN Code Gallery (www.msdn.microsoft.com/en-us/devlabs/cc514800) The following websites contain many interesting tutorials about the decompilers: http://www.geocities.com/exesoftware/tuto\_fr\_1\_0b\_eng.htm and <http://exesoftware.blogspot.com/>
